Scattered Camps Resume Logging; Permits Restricted

Scattered logging camps on northern Vancouver Island are resuming operations under restricted B.C. Forest Service permits, forestry officials disclose.

Permits are being issued at areas where forest rangers believe fire hazard is at a minimum. Loggers returned to some camps near Parksville where operations are above the 1,500 foot level.

Other camps are operating under early shift regulations and with fire-fighting equipment immediately available as a precaution.

Return to work for loggers at some camps at Courtenay and points north ended unemployment brought by the forest closure July 12.

NO ESTIMATE

Exact number of men again working was not estimated.

The general closure remains effective on all the district, service officials added.

No logging camps on southern Vancouver Island were known to be operating, although some waterfront mills have resumed operations under strict permits if they are located near woods. Mills away from water have not been issued permits.

Vancouver forest district yesterday had 29 fires burning, requiring 212 firefighters. All fires were under control. Total fires in the province was 142, fought by 1,344 men.

Forestry officials called R.C.M.P. investigation of forest fire causes "normal procedure." Police are called only after the department is unable to determine a reasonable cause of a fire, they said.

Police investigations are in progress at Sooke Basin and in the Nanaimo area.

Supplies Of Hay Tallied

Complete inventory is being taken of hay supplies throughout British Columbia in the face of mounting fears of a winter feed shortage.

Hay intended for winter use is now being fed to livestock because pastures have been burned out by the long dry spell.

W. F. Robertson, deputy minister of agriculture, announced the move yesterday.

At the same time, representatives of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture were reporting on the drought situation at the annual meeting of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture in Quebec.

B.C. president Alex Mercer and secretary-manager Charles Walls said summer milk production was being maintained only by feeding winter hay, and that more supplies might be needed next winter.

Child Shows No Fear of Once-Dangerous Cougar

Dangerous no longer, this cougar makes soft perch for 11-month-old Joe, son of cougar hunter Jack Ryan, Campbell River. A short time before, however, the cat was a risky proposition, and excellent natural camouflage made it a difficult target. Only expensive well-trained dogs can tree the cougar, one reason why hunters are pressing for a bounty increase.—(Colonist photo by the Baldwins.)

Estimates, Plans Await Drill Tests At Buttle Outlet

By LAURIE JOSLIN

Until test drilling has been done at the outlet of Buttle Lake, the B.C. Power Commission cannot finish its plans or estimates of cost, Col. W. G. Swan, independent consulting engineer, testified at hearings yesterday on the commission's application to dam the lake.

Col. Swan inspected dam sites at both Buttle Lake and Upper Campbell Lake last June with Dr. Victor Dolmage, consulting engineer.

Dr. Dolmage gave evidence at hearings in Courtenay last week that a dam at Buttle would not hold water because of seepage.

BELOW OUTLET

Dr. Dolmage and Col. Swan recommended a dam site on Campbell River about 2.7 miles below the outlet of Upper Campbell Lake.

Col. Swan testified a rock-filled dam with a clay core at this site could provide storage for 378,600 acre feet of water, against commission requirements of 360,000. Plans for the alternative dam give it a height of 160 feet.

Cost of the alternative dam would be greater than a dam at Buttle, he admitted. At the same time, he said, the problem of operations of the Elk River Logging Company, because of flooding of part of the Elk River valley, is not as serious as might appear at first glance.

COMPENSATION

Col. Swan said it might be necessary to pay some compensation to the company only for "a partial change in operations."

Drilling tests on the alternative site might be made for $7,500, he estimated.

During cross-examination of J. H. Ings, hydraulic engineer for H. G. Acres, a firm of Niagara Falls consulting engineers, who carried out surveys for the commission, T. G. Norris, counsel for conservationists, wrung an admission that no thought was given despoiling of Strathcona Park in plans to dam Buttle Lake.

Mr. Ings also admitted seepage could occur right across the mile-wide valley leading out of Buttle Lake if a dam was thrown across the 750-foot wide outlet. Each wing of the dam would rest on natural earth hummocks stretching to either wall of the valley.

DEPENDS ON TEST

Mr. Ings said that if tests proved the likelihood of excessive seepage he would not recommend a dam on the site.

"That depends on test?" asked Mr. Norris. "In the final analysis," was the reply.

Water Rights Comptroller E. T. Tredcroft, conducting the hearings, suggested a dam would not be allowed if it could not be proved safe.

"If you disregard that, you are disregarding one of the most important factors of this hearing," said Mr. Norris. "I'm trying to show it isn't safe."

Mr. Tredcroft said the commission wants to know it has the right to go ahead if it proves the dam will be safe.

Mr. Norris objected the commission was "going ahead wildly" and its license should be refused.

Bishop Sexton Chides Hatcher

City's Churchmen Deny Defense Request Made

City church authorities yesterday said they have yet to receive a request for support from civil defense authorities.

Civil defense co-ordinator Leonard Hatcher has criticized lack of support from ministers of Greater Victoria.

"I know nothing whatsoever about such a request," replied Bishop Harold Sexton, Anglican Church spokesman.

"I would suggest to Mr. Leonard Hatcher and his associates that some success might result if they adopt the right and courteous approach," the bishop added.

"If they have made a request to the Ministerial Association they have gone about it in the wrong way, for that body is merely a ministers' fraternity, and the Church of England, and others, are not officially represented," Bishop Sexton said.

LITTLE INTEREST

Referring to Mr. Hatcher's criticism of the churches, the bishop remarked: "The churches are showing as little interest in local defense plans as is shown in the churches by those who would seek their co-operation."

Said Rev. G. R. Easter, minister of the First Baptist Church: "We have had absolutely nothing by way of a request for such help."

"We haven't received a request of that nature," said Reginald Harris, treasurer of Metropolitan Church, "but as soon as we know what is expected of us we shall certainly start making some plans."

Kiwanians See "Highway 16"

A film of the Prince George to Prince Rupert district of the mainland, entitled "Highway 16," was shown last night to members of the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club.

The film is a product of the B.C. Government Travel Bureau and a commentary on it was provided by bureau staff member R. L. Colby.

Waterfront Boundaries Under Study

City Engineer Cyril Jones and the provincial surveyor-general's department are attempting to find a solution to the problem of Dallas Road waterfront boundaries.

Solicitor A. J. Patton answered a city map-maker's claim that nothing was done about a by-law designed to give the city power to keep beaches free of litter from Outer Wharf to Foul Bay. The map-maker claimed the by-law should have been implemented by provincial order-in-council.

Present city boundaries are marked as the high water mark and the problem is to decide whether low water marks, as suggested by the city, are suitable, said Mr. Patton.

GOVERNMENT REQUEST

It was believed the government will request that the boundary be taken in a line from Ogden Point to the Oak Bay-Victoria boundary, necessitating city police patrol of waters within the new limits.

The by-law was prepared 1½ years ago but never actually approved by the provincial department for presentation to the lieutenant-governor-in-council.

Formal application for its presentation to the council was filed four months ago but no action has been taken, Mr. Patton added.

Parley to Study Irrigation Plan

Plans to use Elk Lake for a limited irrigation system for the Saanich peninsula will be discussed August 23 at a joint meeting of the Saanich Chamber of Commerce and the Farmers' Institute.

Councillor William Kersey said yesterday he will meet with Agriculture Minister H. R. Bowman to discuss costs and potentialities of the method.

Clr. Kersey suggested the use of Elk Lake some weeks ago when drastic effects of the current drought were first being felt by Saanich fruit growers.

The system would require that the area be turned into an irrigation district with farmers sharing the cost of a provincial government irrigation project.

The meeting will take place in the Temperance Hall, Keating.

Viscount Arriving Here Next Thursday for Visit

Governor-General Viscount Alexander will arrive in Victoria next Thursday for a two-day visit.

He will be the guest of His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace and Mrs. Wallace at Government House, where he will be entertained the first evening at a special dinner in his honor.

At 4 p.m. the following day, August 24, he will officiate at an investiture of Victoria Boy Scouts at Government House. In the evening he will be honor guest of the United Services Institution at the Union Club.

Viscount Alexander and his two sons, Shane and Brian, are at present on a fishing trip in B.C. waters aboard Mr. Wallace's yacht Wallithy.

Sees No Bearing on Issue

Tredcroft Rejects Bid For Power Price Data

E. H. Tredcroft, comptroller of water rights, who is conducting hearings on the application of the B.C. Power Commission to dam Buttle Lake, ruled yesterday that the question of power rates charged by the commission had no bearing on the issue and would not assist him in reaching a decision.

T. G. Norris, K.C., counsel for conservationists opposed to damming Buttle, had asked that the rate structure be made public.

Fifty-four per cent of John Hart power is used by a small number of industrial consumers who pay low rates and Strathcona Park is to be destroyed for their benefit, he charged yesterday.

'PREFERRED CLASS'

Mr. Norris said he was interested in using the rate structure to show there is a "preferred class."

H. W. Davey, K.C., counsel for the commission, said he had been instructed to object to the introduction of the rate structure or rates set out in the special contracts.

Mr. Norris suggested that future power rates negotiated by the commission were based on plans to dam Buttle Lake before the commission had received the right to go ahead with the plan.

When Mr. Tredcroft refused to admit rates as part of evidence, Mr. Norris continued cross-examination of G. A. Vandervoort, chief operations engineer of the commission.

MORE POTENTIAL

He won an admission from the engineer that there was a dam at Puntledge capable of producing 3,000 to 4,000 kilowatts of 60-cycle power in addition to the 25-cycle power now being generated at the plant.

"Is there some further potential in Puntledge?" asked Mr. Norris.

"I believe there is," replied Mr. Vandervoort.

"Which can be developed for the future?" "I guess there is."

Jack Milligan, commission engineer, testified that estimates of the area to be flooded through damming of Buttle were not based on actual surveys.

THREE RESERVOIRS

J. H. Ings, hydraulic engineer employed by H. G. Acres and Company, who carried out surveys for the commission in the Campbell River development, declared a field worker in 1924 had recommended three storage reservoirs in the John Hart development at Upper and Lower Campbell Lakes and at Buttle Lake.

A dam has been built on Lower Campbell and H. G. Acres recommended in 1947 that substantial savings could be made if all additional storage required was made in Buttle Lake.

CHEAPER SITE

Mr. Ings said an examination of the Buttle Lake site on July 13 led him to the belief a dam could be built there at much less cost than at alternative sites.

To evaluate seepage, borings and testings would have to be made at a cost of some $50,000, he estimated. Seepage could be controlled, he maintained.

(Last week Dr. Victor Dolmage, consulting geologist, appeared on behalf of conservationists to express doubt a dam could be built at the Buttle Lake outlet which would hold water. He suggested a dam be built about 2½ miles below the outlet of Upper Campbell Lake.)

VARYING SIZES

Mr. Ings supplied the following estimates of the sizes of dams required at the various sites:

Buttle Lake outlet, 50 feet high, 400 to 500 feet across, plus an earth dam 20 feet high and 250 feet across.

Upper Campbell Lake outlet, 85 feet high, 500 feet across; more seepage likely than at Buttle because of extra height.

Upper Campbell, one mile below outlet, 100 feet high, 1,000 to 1,200 feet across.

Upper Campbell, two miles below outlet, 120 feet high, main dam 1,100 feet across, plus a wing 750 feet across.

Anglican Opposes Grant to Church

AROUND TOWN

E. W. Abraham, 1125 Faithful Street, yesterday filed a letter of protest with city clerk M. F. Hunter against a council grant of $500 to the Church of England.

The money is to be used for entertainment and other expenses connected with the visit here next month of 400 Anglican Synod delegates.

Mr. Abraham, an Anglican, said he resented any such grant being begged of the city. Anglicans should be able to finance their own meeting, he added.

Misguided Visitor

A woman visitor from California has apparently been neglecting the fine print in the travel folders.

Yesterday she asked a service station attendant a few typical tourist questions, and finally got around to the matter of money.

"How will I understand the shillings and pence?" she asked.

The woman paid for the petrol and drove away . . . on the left-hand side of the street.

Morning Mishap

William G. Robertson, 632 Raynor Street, and Ledda Thompson, 1023 Linden Avenue, were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital early yesterday morning after a collision on Government Street. Both suffered facial lacerations.

Police report the car driven by Robertson collided with a parked car, then smashed into a boulevard tree. Damage to the car was slight.

C. F. Allen, 309 Michigan Street, has a novel plan to teach primary school children traffic safety.

His plan, forwarded to city council, entails drawing street intersections on school playgrounds, with portable stop and go signals operated by senior students. "No jay-walking" signs could be painted on the miniature walks, he said.

The entire plan would be supervised by teachers.

His suggestion was referred to the traffic committee, police department and city engineer.

Sea Rangers To Visit Island

Twenty-six Sea Rangers from Toronto are expected here at 8.30 p.m. Tuesday. They will come via Nanaimo, and in Victoria will be entertained by Victoria Sea Rangers and their skipper, Miss Lillian G. Warne.

The Sea Rangers organization is open to girls from 15 to 21 years of age, and carries on work and traditions of the Girl Guides on a senior level.

In Nanaimo the visiting Sea Rangers will be presented with a painting of the historic Hudson's Bay Company ship Princess Royal. The work has been specially done by Nanaimo artist J. W. Hardcastle.

Members Chosen For Joint Group

A Greater Victoria inter-municipal committee will soon be back in action.

Mayor Percy George yesterday named Ald. Dr. J. D. Hunter and Ald. Frank Mulliner as city members to the committee, which will include Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt. Central Saanich also may be asked if it wishes to join.

Revival of the committee came on the suggestion of Councillor A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt. He said last night he was very pleased to hear of the Victoria appointments.

Date of the first meeting will be set when delegates of other municipalities are known, Clr. Wurtele said.

He said the first item on the committee's agenda will be garbage disposal methods in Greater Victoria. Efforts will be made to find a solution for disposal common to all municipalities.

Another matter which could be considered is unified grants by municipalities, he said.

Rail Rate Boosts Topic at Meeting

Chamber of Commerce directors will meet at noon today in the Empress Hotel.

It is expected the meeting will discuss further freight rate increases as they affect Victoria and Vancouver Island.

Veterans Ask Change in Act

Esquimalt branch of the Canadian Legion, last night endorsed again its request that the B.C. Hospital Insurance Act be amended to provide for the wives of war veterans' allowance recipients, recipients of widows' allowance and recipients of dependent parents' pensions under the Canadian Pension Act.

The resolution will go to the provincial command of the Legion for presentation to the B.C. Hospital Insurance Inquiry Board which sits in Vancouver later this month.

Roy Hickey was appointed to the district council zone by-law committee. J. E. Carey and S. Murray were named to the Remembrance Day Memorial service committee.

Arrangements were made for a dart ladder tournament.

Body of Man Found in River

The body of Walter Fearn, 46, of Brexton, B.C., was recovered yesterday from Bridge River, four miles south of Minto.

Police said they believed Fearn's wife also perished when their car plunged off the road into the river on Aug. 14.—Her body has not been recovered.

An inquest was scheduled today.

"Ice Wagon" Lands in Vancouver

Southern Vancouver Island Wants to Be Included In Rainmaking Efforts of Research Council Plane

By BILL MAYOR

Southern Vancouver Island doesn't want to be left out of the "ice wagon" experiments of the National Research Council.

Farmers, bussiness men and civic officials have expressed hope the experiments will be extended beyond Vancouver proper to include some of Vancouver Island.

The "ice wagon" is a four-motored North Star experimental plane of the National Research Council. The plane arrived yesterday at Vancouver where the crew prepared to drop dry ice on clouds in an attempt to induce precipitation.

Reseach council officials aren't making any promises, however. They said this method of inducing rain is completely dependent on suitable cloud conditions.

HARDER HIT

Veteran bulb grower G. A. Vantreight, Sr., 70, was of the opinion that Saanich and Gordon Head farmers have suffered more than the Fraser Valley growers. "We get less rain than Vancouver," he said.

Although not personally expecting rain until September 20, Mr. Vantreight was all for trying everything.

Mayor Percy George called for extension of endeavors here if results are achieved on the Mainland. 'I appreciate the council's efforts in taking a hand in the dilemma," he said.

Some doubts over value of rain to crops was expressed by R. M. Adamson of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Saanichton.

TOO LATE

"I'm afraid rain caused artificially will be too late, as most crops have failed due to drought," he said. "But there would be some value."

Success for dry ice experiments has been claimed since 1949. A downpour heavier than ever recorded occurred near Honolulu. Some success has also been claimed in the United States.

Despite newness of the experiment on the coast, the operation is termed "routine work" by the National Research Council.

EXPERTS ABOARD

The specially equipped plane is flown by the R.C.A.F. Aboard are: J. L. Orr, Weston, Ont., head of N.R.C.'s low temperature laboratory; E. H. Bowler, Palmer, Sask., instrument engineer; K. G. Pettit, London, Ont., and R. H. Douglas, Edmonton, meteorologists.

The plane is flown by Flt.-Lieut. Jack Higgins of Winnipeg.

Mayor George To Open Fair

Mayor Percy George will officially open the fourth annual Victoria West Community Centre fair to be held at Banfield Park tomorrow afternoon.

Escorting the mayor to the park for the opening ceremonies will be the Victoria Girls' Pipe Band.

Other highlights of the fair, scheduled to open at 2.30 p.m., will be a baby show, rides and entertainment for children, and an evening dancing concert featuring many of the top participants in the recent Highland Games.

Girl Reports Molestation; Man Warned

City detectives questioned a 72-year-old man after a seven-year-old girl reported being molested in a Yates Street theatre yesterday.

He was released following a warning by police.

The incident followed an appeal to parents Wednesday by Chief of Police John Blackstock to notify police immediately if children report being molested.

A recent wave of minor sex crimes here prompted the chief's appeal.

Estimates, Plans Await Drill Tests At Buttle Outlet

By LAURIE JOSLIN

Until test drilling has been done at the outlet of Buttle Lake, the B.C. Power Commission cannot finish its plans or estimates of cost, Col. W. G. Swan, independent consulting engineer, testified at hearings yesterday on the commission's application to dam the lake.

Col. Swan inspected dam sites at both Buttle Lake and Upper Campbell Lake last June with Dr. Victor Dolmage, consulting engineer.

BELOW OUTLET

Dr. Dolmage and Col. Swan recommended a dam site on Campbell River about 2.7 miles below the outlet of Upper Campbell Lake.

Col. Swan testified a rock-filled dam with a clay core at this site could provide storage for 378,000 acre feet of water, against commission requirements of 360,000. Plans for the alternative dam give it a height of 160 feet.

Cost of the alternative dam would be greater than a dam at Buttle, he admitted. At the same time, he said, the problem of operations of the Elk River Logging Company, because of flooding of part of the Elk River valley, is not as serious as might appear at first glance.

CHEAPER SITE

Mr. Ings said an examination of the Buttle Lake site on July 13 led him to the belief a dam could be built there at much less cost than at alternative sites.

To evaluate seepage, borings and testings would have to be made at a cost of some $50,000, he estimated. Seepage could be controlled, he maintained.

(Last week Dr. Victor Dolmage, consulting geologist, appeared on behalf of conservationists to express doubt a dam could be built at the Buttle Lake outlet which would hold water. He suggested a dam be built about 2½ miles below the outlet of Upper Campbell Lake.)

VARYING SIZES

Mr. Ings supplied the following estimates of the sizes of dams required at the various sites:

Buttle Lake outlet, 50 feet high, 400 to 500 feet across, plus an earth dam 20 feet high and 250 feet across.

Upper Campbell Lake outlet, 85 feet high, 500 feet across; more seepage likely than at Buttle because of extra height.

Upper Campbell, one mile below outlet, 100 feet high, 1,000 to 1,200 feet across.

Upper Campbell, two miles below outlet, 120 feet high, main dam 1,100 feet across, plus a wing 750 feet across.

Anglican Opposes Grant to Church

AROUND TOWN

E. W. Abraham, 1125 Faithful Street, yesterday filed a letter of protest with city clerk M. F. Hunter against a council grant of $500 to the Church of England.

The money is to be used for entertainment and other expenses connected with the visit here next month of 400 Anglican Synod delegates.

Mr. Abraham, an Anglican, said he resented any such grant being begged of the city. Anglicans should be able to finance their own meeting, he added.

Misguided Visitor

A woman visitor from California has apparently been neglecting the fine print in the travel folders.

Yesterday she asked a service station attendant a few typical tourist questions, and finally got around to the matter of money.

"How will I understand the shillings and pence?" she asked.

The woman paid for the petrol and drove away . . . on the left-hand side of the street.

Morning Mishap

William G. Robertson, 632 Raynor Street, and Ledda Thompson, 1023 Linden Avenue, were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital early yesterday morning after a collision on Government Street. Both suffered facial lacerations.

C. F. Allen, 309 Michigan Street, has a novel plan to teach primary school children traffic safety.

His plan, forwarded to city council, entails drawing street intersections on school playgrounds, with portable stop and go signals operated by senior students. "No jay-walking" signs could be painted on the miniature walks, he said.

The entire plan would be supervised by teachers.

His suggestion was referred to the traffic committee, police department and city engineer.

Members Chosen For Joint Group

A Greater Victoria inter-municipal committee will soon be back in action.

Mayor Percy George yesterday named Ald. Dr. J. D. Hunter and Ald. Frank Mulliner as city members to the committee, which will include Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt. Central Saanich also may be asked if it wishes to join.

Revival of the committee came on the suggestion of Councillor A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt. He said last night he was very pleased to hear of the Victoria appointments.

Date of the first meeting will be set when delegates of other municipalities are known, Clr. Wurtele said.

He said the first item on the committee's agenda will be garbage disposal methods in Greater Victoria. Efforts will be made to find a solution for disposal common to all municipalities.

Another matter which could be considered is unified grants by municipalities, he said.

Rail Rate Boosts Topic at Meeting

Chamber of Commerce directors will meet at noon today in the Empress Hotel.

It is expected the meeting will discuss further freight rate increases as they affect Victoria and Vancouver Island.

Veterans Ask Change in Act

Esquimalt branch of the Canadian Legion, last night endorsed again its request that the B.C. Hospital Insurance Act be amended to provide for the wives of war veterans' allowance recipients, recipients of widows' allowance and recipients of dependent parents' pensions under the Canadian Pension Act.

The resolution will go to the provincial command of the Legion for presentation to the B.C. Hospital Insurance Inquiry Board which sits in Vancouver later this month.

Roy Hickey was appointed to the district council zone by-law committee. J. E. Carey and S. Murray were named to the Remembrance Day Memorial service committee.

Arrangements were made for a dart/ladder tournament.

"Ice Wagon" Lands in Vancouver

Southern Vancouver Island Wants to Be Included In Rainmaking Efforts of Research Council Plane

By BILL MAYOR

Southern Vancouver Island doesn't want to be left out of the "ice wagon" experiments of the National Research Council.

Farmers, bussiness men and civic officials have expressed hope the experiments will be extended beyond Vancouver proper to include some of Vancouver Island.

The "ice wagon" is a four-motored North Star experimental plane of the National Research Council. The plane arrived yesterday at Vancouver where the crew prepared to drop dry ice on clouds in an attempt to induce precipitation.

Research council officials aren't making any promises, however. They said this method of inducing rain is completely dependent on suitable cloud conditions.

HARDER HIT

Veteran bulb grower G. A. Vantreight, Sr., 70, was of the opinion that Saanich and Gordon Head farmers have suffered more than the Fraser Valley growers. "We get less rain than Vancouver," he said.

Although not personally expecting rain until September 20, Mr. Vantreight was all for trying everything.

Mayor Percy George called for extension of endeavors here if results are achieved on the Mainland. "I appreciate the council's efforts in taking a hand in the dilemma," he said.

Some doubts over value of rain to crops was expressed by R. M. Adamson of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Saanichton.

TOO LATE

"I'm afraid rain caused artificially will be too late, as most crops have failed due to drought," he said. "But there would be some value."

Success for dry ice experiments has been claimed since 1949. A downpour heavier than ever recorded occurred near Honolulu. Some success has also been claimed in the United States.

Despite newness of the experiment on the coast, the operation is termed "routine work" by the National Research Council.

EXPERTS ABOARD

The specially equipped plane is flown by the R.C.A.F. Aboard are: J. L. Orr, Weston, Ont., head of N.R.C.'s low temperature laboratory; E. H. Bowler, Palmer, Sask., instrument engineer; K. G. Pettit, London, Ont., and R. H. Douglas, Edmonton, meteorologists.

The plane is flown by Flt.-Lieut. Jack Higgins of Winnipeg.

Sea Rangers To Visit Island

Twenty-six Sea Rangers from Toronto are expected here at 8.30 p.m. Tuesday. They will come via Nanaimo, and in Victoria will be entertained by Victoria Sea Rangers and their skipper, Miss Lillian G. Warne.

The Sea Rangers organization is open to girls from 15 to 21 years of age, and carries on work and traditions of the Girl Guides on a senior level.

In Nanaimo the visiting Sea Rangers will be presented with a painting of the historic Hudson's Bay Company ship Princess Royal. The work has been specially done by Nanaimo artist J. W. Hardcastle.

Mayor George To Open Fair

Mayor Percy George will officially open the fourth annual Victoria West Community Centre fair to be held at Banfield Park tomorrow afternoon.

Escorting the mayor to the park for the opening regemonies will be the Victoria Girls' Pipe Band.

Other highlights of the fair, scheduled to open at 2.30 p.m., will be a baby show, rides and entertainment for children, and an evening dancing concert featuring many of the top participants in the recent Highland Games.

Girl Reports Molestation; Man Warned

City detectives questioned a 72-year-old man after a seven-year-old girl reported being molested in a Yates Street theatre yesterday.

He was released following a warning by police.

The incident followed an appeal to parents Wednesday by Chief of Police John Blackstock to notify police immediately if children report being molested.

A recent wave of minor sex crimes here prompted the chief's appeal.

Le Huquet, 1990 Cromwell Road. Rings were exchanged by the principals, the bride giving her groom his grandfather's gold wedding ring. Mr. B. Austin played the traditional music.

Her finger-tip veil edged with lace was arranged under a net bonnet-style headdress trimmed with orange blossoms. American Beauty roses with white heather and stocks backed with white silk net was carried by the bride to complete her costume.

Miss Frances Watt, maid of honor, wore green organdy eyelet and Miss Jacqueline Le Huquet, sister of the groom, bridesmaid, chose yellow, their frocks styled with Bertha collars and bouffant skirts. They wore matching mitts and had headdresses on the back of their heads corresponding to the white daisies, violas and gladioli florets in their colonial bouquets with contrasting net backing. The bridegroom had Mr. Glen Moir as best man, and ushers were Mr. Athol Cropper and Mr. Howard Ruffell.

For the occasion, Mrs. Bowkett was gowned in turquoise crepe trimmed with lace and wore a black straw hat trimmed with turquoise and pink roses. Mrs. Le Huquet wore a beige flowered silk print with black hat trimmed with salmon flowers and had gloves in the same shade.

The reception was held at Oak Bay Beach Hotel where the toast was given by Mr. William Wadeson of South Slocan, a lifelong friend of the bride. The lace-covered table was centred with the three-tiered cake bedded in pink tulle and topped with pink rosebuds. Best wishes were extended to the groom who was also celebrating his birthday. Leaving by car for a honeymoon up the Island, the bride wore a navy blue double-breasted suit with navy velvet hat, red bag and shoes, white accessories and a corsage of gardenias and white heather.

Beauty and You

By MARION MATTHEWS

Some girls come by their lovely legs naturally, other have to exercise to bring theirs into shape, still others rely upon the right hose and clothes to achieve pleasing results.

Darker tones are always more slimming and so it follows that stockings in the deeper shades will make the legs look thinner. When you are conscious of heavy ankles or calves you will find by selecting hose a shade or two deeper than you are accustomed to wearing, inches are seemingly banished as if by magic. If you are stocked up with the lighter shades so fashionable this summer try tinting them darker. There are special stocking dyes to be had over most 5 and 10-cent store counters.

WITH SEAMS

In addition to the color consider the shapes of the heels in your hose—nothing tricky or too fancy. Seams can be slightly deeper in tone than stocking color. If you want to minimize leg size do not wear hose with decorative clocks, etc. Stockings with seams are to be preferred to those without—furthermore, we've heard any number of men say they liked seamed stockings on a girl and it disturbs them when seams are missing, so perhaps even the slim-legged had better take the hint.

SLIM DARK SKIRTS

The moderately-flared skirt offers another deception. Every time it will win out over the very narrow or tremendously full dirndl. Dark-colored skirts are one of the best camouflages. Avoid decorations or contrasting colors at the hemline. They only catch the eye, focussing attention on the legs. Midcalf is the most flattering length.

Beware of tricky shoes if your ankles tend to heaviness. Trimly-styled play or spectator shoes are your best bet for casual summer wear. For general wear, dark tones—black, brown, navy—are excellent.

Have a Picnic, Rain or Shine

Rain or shine it's summer and picnic time. So while it lasts let the family enjoy their dinner picnic style. Here is a meal that is "good picnicking" whether it's eaten in the park or not:

Fried Chicken
Spicy Cranberry Relish
Green Beans (Dutch Style)
Tossed Garden Salad
Buttered Rolls
Iced Tea or Coffee
Chilled Fruit

To fry the chicken: Wash, dry well, and flour pieces by shaking several at a time in a paper bag containing:

1 cup all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon paprika (if desired)

Place halves or quarters in heavy deep skillet in ½-inch hot fat (part butter) skin side down. Brown on both sides and cover tightly. Cook over very low heat until tender (35 to 40 minutes).

To crisp crust . . . remove cover and cook 5 to 10 minutes longer. Use the leftover flour plus extra, if needed, to make cream gravy.

Serve with . . .

CRANBERRY RELISH

½ dozen whole cloves
Stick cinnamon
1 pound-can whole cranberry sauce

Place cloves and a stick of cinnamon in a can of cranberry sauce. Store in refrigerator for a day to allow spices to permeate cranberry sauce.

Father Shines in the Kitchen With Self-Concocted Recipes

Did you think collecting recipes is strictly women's work, and mother is the only one in the family who can whip up a frilly dessert?

Just ask dad.

Ever since we issued a call for dishes that men like to concoct, we have been flooded with replies.

A Montreal newspaper man suggests "oeufs a la neige" (snow eggs). This takes two hard-boiled eggs to each person. Make a white sauce, using corn starch and milk. Slice eggs in the sauce and serve either French fried or mashed potatoes and green peas.

To make the sauce: One cup of milk per person. Allow milk to reach boiling point, mix three teaspoonsful of corn starch in water and add it to milk. Cook until thickens.

RAGOUT DE BOULETTES

Another Montrealer believes that not many persons know how to serve pigs' knuckles and meatballs, or "ragout de boulettes."

His recipe: Roll meatballs in flour and brown in frying pan before placing in cauldron. Brown flour in pan and make sauce. Boil water in cauldron and add pigs' knuckles. Add meatballs to cauldron.

We're told this dish is tasty "when served with boiled potatoes and salads."

A Toronto chap suggests the following as "cheap and useful when the tag-end of a roast isn't sufficient to make a good showing on its own."

Boil some rice, drain, then add a can of undiluted condensed tomato soup. Toss in small cubes of meat "and use your imagination with the spices." Cayenne, garlic and curry combine well in this dish, which should also include a couple of finely chopped small onions. Heat and serve.

As a "fancy touch" our friend suggests browning cubes of bread with a little butter. Sprinkle this over a casserole preparation of the above.

"WOMANISH KNACK"

Another Toronto man produces the following recipe, saying the method of preparation reminds him of "bricklaying." For lack of a better title we'll call it "Bricklayer's Special."

Ingredients: One package of jelly (lime), one tin crushed pineapple, one-half pint of whipping cream, one bottle of red maraschino cherries, three crushed walnuts.

Prepare jelly and allow it barely to set before whipping with egg-beater until creamy. Return to refrigerator until firm. Whip cream.

Comes the "bricklaying" part: Serve in tall dessert dishes. Add two dessertspoons of the jelly to each glass. Add the same amount of pineapple. Continue and finally cover with whipped cream. Sprinkle walnuts on top. Add cherry. Serves five.

Apple Cake For Dessert

For dessert an apple cake is good:

Peel and slice 8 medium apples. Brown 2½ cups bread crumbs in a little butter.

Put in alternate layers in a deep baking dish, sprinkling each layer with sugar and cinnamon, and dotting with butter. Press down each layer. The bottom and top layers should be crumbs, using more crumbs as necessary. Bake for 40 minutes in a moderate oven, and serve warm with vanilla ice cream.

Lesson for Army:

Canadians, at First Contemptuous, Now Treat Koreans With Kindness

- WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, Aug. 16 (CP)—The Canadians are learning a lot of things about Korea and Koreans these days. And it's a lesson for the army to learn.

The two new items from Korea to be added to the Order of Wooden Shoes are:

1. Koreans common in North Korea from the rubbed city of Inchon and a broad area extending to points 10 to 12 miles inland.

2. Are contemptuous among many of them during the early days of their contact with Canadians. Those days are over. Well-fed, well-clothed, well-armed Canadians are in terms of comfort and security the farthest removed people this war-weary land has seen.

The Canadians also respect Korea and Koreans as people who have been so humiliated and brutalized by the conditions to which they were subjected during the Japanese occupation and by the centuries of feudalism that preceded it.

Because of this, as it is reflected in the attitudes of the Canadians, there is a tendency to forget that many Koreans are in terms of centuries the farthest removed people on earth from the Canadians.

The Canadians also respect Koreans who would have no part of the Communist way of life.

LOST KOREANS

Koreans, as they are known to the Canadians, are a lost people. They have been so long without a country that they have become a race of displaced persons. Their own government is in exile. Their own land is divided and occupied by foreign armies. Their own people

The Biggest Splurge in History

BRITISH COLUMBIA is about to pay the piper. Before Finance Minister Anscomb's "biggest loan in history" came the province's biggest splurge, and it is not over yet. Never before, surely, has the B.C. treasury had $20,000,000 in treasury bills in hock to the banks. To cover this and an additional sum voted for highways and bridges the province has just floated a $30,000,000 loan in New York, repayable in American funds. Some $5,000,000 of the borrowing is in three series of short-term bonds at 3 per cent with from four to six years' maturity. The bulk, however, is in a 25-year loan at 3½ per cent, callable after 10 years. Both long and short-term borrowings, in so far as they have been explained, are in sinking fund debentures, and both are repayable in American funds at whatever may be the going rate at their several maturities.

Under the circumstances neither Mr. Anscomb nor anybody else can say what the "cost" of these borrowings will be. Today, for instance, the conversion to Canadian funds the short-term loans have been called by the B.C. treasury is costing 2.25 per cent, and the 25-year loan "may be at par as at 3.25 per cent. Not until the last sinking fund is complete, the last interest paid and the last maturity met at whatever may be the current rate of exchange 25 years from now, can those hosts be properly "enriched." Until then, perhaps the greatest of the gains is a 1951 percentage in the cooling this resort as "most certain."

Conceding the difficulties of the case and the present state of the money market, by this single bonding manoeuvre British Columbia is returning to three of the things that were cast aside after costly lessons in the remembered past. They are the long-term loan fully payable in a foreign exchange, reintroduction of sinking fund debentures in place of serially-dispersed bonds, and short-term loans during a fixed and changing level of international monetary exchange. Mr. Anscomb may be fortunate and win on all three hazards. We hope that he does. On the other hand, there are many who recall the time when the Canadian dollar was at a very heavy discount in the United States, and when too sinking funds were not always ready to hand.

Not a Secret Preserve

REEVE THOMAS' suggestion that [illegible] should discuss matters of interest with the principal contractor on a "confidential basis" [illegible] has many obvious [illegible] to the public, as [illegible] to the commercial prerogative, which it most certainly is not.

In justification of his attitude Mr. Thomas cites the publicity given to Esquimalt Municipality's use of its own concrete [illegible], an admirable piece of work in itself since it saves taxpayers' money, as forcing the municipality to pay the federal manufacturers' tax due on such an operation. This Esquimalt suggests it shouldn't have had to do. The reeve further suggests Esquimalt had no intention of paying the tax if it could keep the manufacture secret, which would be a breach of the law surely somewhat embarrassing to the reeve, since he administers the law elsewhere in his capacity as a police magistrate.

Mr. Thomas, we feel sure, has no objections to the publicity given to Esquimalt's fearful ethics if it is a direct result from federal authorities in lieu of cross-field, luxury property and [illegible] taxes and other outlays necessitated because Esquimalt is a municipality of [illegible]. Nor, we feel sure, will he object to [illegible] more vehement Esquimalt's resolve if it thanks the municipality is rendering on what it owes the federal treasury.

Secrecy, as this discussion bears out, can be a two-edged weapon, a stale of mind and administration which some elected officials do not seem to grasp as they ought. The wisest course is to handle public business on an open basis. Not only is this the public's due, but it helps to keep public officials free from awkward situations when the facts come out, as invariably they do and not always then in a manner to their liking.

Automatic Distress Signals

IN SPITE of the advances of modern times in air rescue operations, there would seem to be scope for fuller and more active inquiry into the improvement of distress signal devices which would automatically report the position of planes forced down with or without crashing. The Pacific Northwest has experienced a mild epidemic of lost planes in the last few weeks, such instances [illegible] in early and too often [illegible]. In a few cases, the planes [illegible] and burned, so that no [illegible] of distress signal would have been [illegible]. How about an [illegible] the pilot [illegible] at the moment of impact [illegible] sending out an SOS on [illegible] "mayday" wave?

[illegible] distress signal at [illegible] days, while [illegible] elaborate [illegible] or battery-powered, simple [illegible] which could as easily have been [illegible] used to a sending-tape for automatic transmission. Its usefulness was that long after the ship's distress had stopped it could still emit broadcast-aided signals to serve in a position fix. The same principle no doubt could be applied to the air, as indeed that has not already been done. Under air conditions, however, it would be infinitely portable if any such device or its equivalent, could be made automatic and tripped into action by the jar of the collision or crash itself. To have such a chain of constant signals emitted even by one beam might save dire [illegible] finders all the help they needed in spotting the position of the lost plane.

So simple as any such device may sound, its [illegible] achievement must [illegible] foreseen difficulties. On the other hand it seems [illegible] the same [illegible] and better means of locating lost planes must be originated than appears to be in general use today. Far too many airplanes are being "lost" on routine missions.

ROAD RACING

Sir,—The Vancouver Island Track Racing Association would like to give an explanation to the public for the cancellation of the road races without [illegible] which were to be run on Labor Day.

We all at one time or another have the same urge. Just to see what our car will do. Many of us are [illegible] are looking for a place where we can [illegible] the law to [illegible] where a [illegible] can [illegible] split second [illegible] too late to [illegible] is stopped with [illegible].

In view of the [illegible] that [illegible] his offer [illegible] same as a [illegible] mad, but [illegible] normal. Everybody [illegible] United States and [illegible] found in [illegible] the solution [illegible] these organizations [illegible] their ideas, and [illegible] problem.

We prefer a track where we can [illegible] our Association [illegible] Track has been [illegible] second choice was a wide street and road. That is the reason Douglas Street was suggested. The time was also [illegible] and to avoid large crowds no advertising would be done.

The statements used by Alderman Skidmore, Chief Constable and City Magistrate Wood were unfortunately the wrong attitude. Quote "We can't give them permission to break the law." "The Association proposes to proceed for Motor Vehicles Act," and [illegible] laws of the Province." "And common sense." When only a few years ago persons were [illegible] a man drive through town [illegible] at the rate of 50 miles with thousands [illegible] watching on the sidewalks of our downtown [illegible] streets.

As mentioned earlier about [illegible] different magazines, they also state it takes time to put [illegible] but finally [illegible] We [illegible] to the happy [illegible] before the people that [illegible] the light.

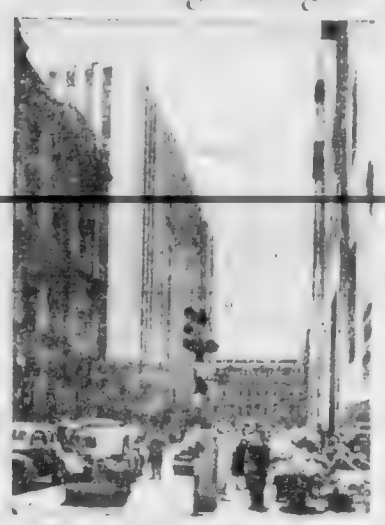
More Overhead Wires Saddening Thought



Present decision by city council to drop poles by wide ground wire because of estimated cost of $1,000,000 saddens many Victorians who hoped to see end of scenes like one above. Patrick Lashes at Arena Commission; Charges Breach of Faith Over Contract

By JIM TANG

Victoria Cougars, Pacific Coast Hockey League champions, are definitely up for sale and owner Lester Patrick will retire from hockey completely within the next three years.

With a new three-year lease for Memorial Arena duly signed, sealed and delivered, Patrick yesterday cut loose at the current Arena commission, claiming a breach of faith in negotiations and producing documentary evidence to back up his statements.

"I'm disgusted and shocked with the morals and ethics involved," the Victoria owner said.

In answer to a question he stated: "I'll be out of here years if I'm still alive. I would never go through that again. No one who sat in on the discussions which followed could remember when they had seen Patrick who has owned and operated hockey clubs since 1911, so wrought up. It was evident that he felt that he had been the victim of his own misplaced trust.

What aroused his ire was the action of the present Arena commission in failing to honor the commitment made by the retiring commission, which, he said, had agreed to terms for a new lease before it was replaced.

Tracing the history of the negotiations, Patrick said he spoke to F. N. Cobeldu, then commission chairman about a new lease for the first time in mid-November 1950.

An exchange of correspondence followed two months later in mid-January, and on Jan. 29 Patrick received a letter from H. W. Davey, K.C., who said he had been instructed to discuss the matter of a new lease with Patrick on behalf of Cabeldu and Richard Field who had been named as a committee by the commission to negotiate and conclude terms for a new lease.

Matters dragged on until May. On May 17, Patrick said he received a letter from Davey requesting a meeting between the Cougar owner and the commission trio on May 22.

Clashed With Davey

At the meeting, Patrick clashed several times with Davey many claiming that the latter was acting only in the capacity of a legal adviser and had no right to enter into discussions which did not require legal advice.

Patrick said he made an offer of $650 a night at the meeting. This he said was later refused by the commission, which countered with an offer of 15 per cent of gross receipts after taxes, with a minimum of $450 a night.

Due to leave for the PCHL and NHL meetings on May 25, Patrick said he was anxious to get the matter settled and agreed to the offer although he was, and remains opposed to the principle of a percentage cut. He had no desire to make any hockey commitments until he was assured he had a lease.

When the contract arrived it contained a clause which had not been discussed previously and which limited the Victoria Hockey Club to 100 complimentary passes per game, he related.

Negotiations Reopened

Advised by his lawyer that the commission was within its legal rights, Patrick said there was nothing he could do but reopen negotiations. He claimed that Bill Bridgewood, Field, Cabeldu and "George" L. Warren, members of the former commission, agreed when questioned separately that they had made a commitment with the Victoria Hockey Club and had advised the new commission accordingly.

Questioned by The Colonist last night, Bridgewood corroborated Patrick.

"Mr. Patrick is absolutely right," he said. "As far as I am concerned the deal was made and it was put in the minutes of the commission meeting which I have here."

Patrick sketched the resulting negotiations with the present commission. He showed a letter in which he was given until July 5 to come to terms and stating that the commission will enter into a new contract for the use of the arena.

Agreement was finally reached on July 13 with the rental set at a flat fee of $750 a night for three years. Patrick said. The lease was not signed until Wednesday.

Patrick was openly disdainful of the July 5 ultimatum pointing out that it came after he had tried repeatedly for eight months to get an agreement with the commission. He wondered aloud about the propriety of the commission requesting a 50 per cent share in receipts from the sale of standing room while there is a clause in the contract that the Cougars must observe all provincial and municipal laws. These forbid the sale of standing room.

First Commission, Too

Patrick said he also had trouble of sorts with the first commission. Returning to Victoria to live when he finished his activities at Madison Square Garden in April 1949, he needed assurance that he could rent Memorial Arena before he could make application for the Victoria PCHL franchise.

At a special commission meeting, he said he made an offer of $100 a night in response to a request. The commission reconvened the same night and telephoned later to say he could have the arena for $500.

Patrick accepted the next morning. April 26 and states he was told by Cabeldu that "You HAD opposition, you know."

Cabeldu was evidently referring to the Victoria group which also made application for the Victoria franchise.

Armed with a letter stating that he could have the use of Memorial Arena for his hockey club "subject to you obtaining the franchise from the Pacific Coast Hockey League and the availability of the building which is not yet completed," Patrick left for the league meeting.

At the meeting he was informed by league president Al Leader that another group was seeking the franchise and was at the meeting with an identical letter.

Patrick obtained the franchise at a second PCHL meeting at Portland in May and received the signed lease on Sept. 26.

Still rankling are some of the terms of the six-page document which included such stipulations as the requirement that he put $10,000 in bearer bonds in escrow, that payment for each game be made not more than 48 hours after each game; that he conform to the rules and regulations of the said league as they exist from time to time; that he not transfer the franchise without the consent of the commission; that he obtain players of equal ability to play on a comparable basis with other teams in the PCHL; that the arena not be "marred or defaulted" in any way; that no alterations be made in seating without the consent of the commission.

The New York Yankees yesterday reduced Cleveland's first-place margin over to 1½ games and they can thank a discarded teammate, southpaw Tommy Byrne.

The Yankees, defeating Washington for the third straight time, 5-3, picked up a full game on the Indians when Byrne hurled the St. Louis Browns to a 4-0 victory over the Tribe.

Tommy, traded away for Stubby Overmire last June, turned in one of the best all-around performances of his career, pitching two-hit ball for seven innings and driving in all his team's runs. He was yanked in the eighth because of a sore back.

The defeat snapped Cleveland's 13-game winning streak.

One of the hits off Byrne was a first-inning double by Larry Doby, who pulled a muscle in his left leg sliding into second base. Club physicians said they would not know how serious the injury was until tomorrow.

SECOND HIT

Byrne doled out his second hit—a single to Bob Kennedy. Dale Mitchell failed to hit safely to snap his 23-game hitting streak.

Byrne got the Browns off to a 2-0 lead in the second inning with a bases-loaded single off loser Mike Garcia. He also batted in St. Louis's third and fourth runs in the fourth and sixth innings.

A 12-hit attack, topped by Gene Woodling's 12th home run, gave rookie Art Schallock his first major league victory for the Yankees.

The New York Giants, behind Sal Maglie's four-hit pitching, defeated Brooklyn's National League-leading Dodgers, 2-1, and bounced back to within 9½ games of first place.

All-Seattle Final Today In Seniors' Tournament

It's an all-Seattle final at Victoria Golf Club today for the grand championship of the 29th annual Northwest Seniors' Golf Association tournament.

Moving into the final yesterday, as expected, was defending champion and comedianist Ralph Whaley. Seeking his seventh success in the eight years he has played, Whaley moved along easily with a 6 and 5 conquest of Portland's G. E. Sullivan.

Whaley's opponent will be Roy Campbell, surprise winner over co-medalist F. N. Eisenhower in the other semifinal.

Campbell matched par over the first nine holes to take a four-hole lead at the turn. The favored Eisenhower won the 10th and 11th but was unable to keep up the pressure. Missing short putts on the 13th and 16th, he lost the ground he had gained and finally bowed out on the 16th green.

This will be Campbell's second chance for the championship. He reached the final in 1941 and lost to Dr. J. B. Louden.

Test Promised Victoria Team At Ladysmith

According to up-Island reports B.C. Forest Products will be facing their greatest test of the season when they meet the powerful Ladysmith I.W.A. team in the Vancouver Island senior "B" men's softball championships at Nanaimo this week-end.

All games in the best-of-three series will be played at Nanaimo. The first game will be played Saturday with the second and, if necessary, the third to be held Sunday.

I.W.A. won the Nanaimo and District League play by winning 15 out of 18 games. They eliminated Southend in straight games in the league playoff finals and knocked off highly rated Campbell River in straight games last week-end to win the up-Island crown.

Forest Products who made the Victoria league playoffs by defeating Civil Service in a sudden-death game for the fourth playoff berth have reached the Vancouver Island finals with series' victories over Navy, Esquimalt and Mesachie Lake.

South Africa Tumbles As Last Match Begins

LONDON, Aug. 16 (Reuters). — South Africa went down for a scant first innings of 202 against England's 51 for two wickets in the first day of the fifth and last cricket test match here today.

South Africa won the toss and coasted into an easy starting before lunch.

But after lunch the game warmed. English bowler Freddie Brown's leg breaks and Jim Laker's off spinning shattered six South African wickets within 55 minutes for only 46 runs.

Among these was the African's powerhouse opener, Eric Rowan. Brown had him leg before at 55.

PARTIAL DISCOVERY

Later, Rowan's brother Athol and Geoff Chubb staged a partial recovery. Chubb was going strong with 10 when Athol was last out with 41.

The pitch opened with an edge for the batsmen but was favoring nobody at the end of the day.

England made a hard luck start. Opener Frank Lowson was caught behind the wicket with no score and only two on the board.

Len Hutton and young Peter May batted easily at the start but Athol Rowan took Hutton with the last ball of the day.

The board showed England only 151 runs behind with eight wickets standing.

England leads the series two games to one. The fourth was drawn July 31 because of rain.

Boa Captures Shoot-Off To Win Qualifying Stage

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March, Ont., Aug. 16 (CP).—Lieut. Gilmour S. Boa, 27-year-old 48th Highlanders officer from Toronto, today won the shoot-off to win qualifying round of the Governor-General's Prize at the 83rd annual Dominion of Canada Rifle Association shoot.

Lieut. Boa, who brought the King's Prize to Canada from Bisley for the first time in 22 years, shot five bulls-eyes to beat CMS. Norm L. Beckett, 42-year-old Royal Hamilton Light Infantry marksman from Hamilton, Ont.

The pair finished the match earlier in the day with a tied score of 149, one off the possible, firing 10 rounds from each of the 200, 500 and 600-yard ranges.

DEADLOCKED AGAIN

In the regulation five-round shoot-off, Lieut. Boa and CSM. Beckett were still tied and they had to go into a shot-for-shot competition.

The D.C.R.A. souvenir for the best tyro in the qualifying stage went to Lee Straight, a reporter with The Vancouver Sun. Straight carded a score of 148 of a possible 150.

Maj. T. W. Hall of New Westminster, B.C., today posted the only possible to win the City of Ottawa match. Maj. Hall scored 20 successive bulls-eyes for a possible 100 from 200 yards to win the gold watch presented by the City of Ottawa.

HEADQUARTERS WINS

A four-man Ottawa army headquarters team earlier won the Coates match, posting a score of 391 of a possible 400 from 500 and 600 yards to beat out teams from the Queen's Own Rifles "B" team, Toronto, second with 386, and the New Westminster Regiment, third with 385.

The army headquarters team also won the Kirkpatrick Cup for the high-east aggregate scores in the Tilton, Connaught, Bankers and MacDougall Competitions.

They posted a score of 1,154 of a possible 1,200 to beat out the Vancouver Seaforths Regiment who placed second with 1,152, and the 48th Highlanders "B" team from Toronto, who took third spot with 1,151.

CADET MATCHES

The Westdale Secondary School "B" team won the Otter Challenge Cup in the Lt.-Gen. Otter cadet team match, posting a score of 137 of a possible 140 from 500 yards.

The Westdale "A" team finished second with 134 and the Windsor Lowe Vocational School of Windsor, Ont., was next with 133.

The Royal Hamilton Light Infantry four-man team from Hamilton, Ont., won the Macdonald Challenge Shield, posting a combined score of 482 of a possible 500 from 300 and 600 yards.

The Westdale Secondary School "A" team from Hamilton captured the United Empire Trophy. The four-man team posted the highest combined score of 936 of a possible 1,000 in the Tyro, MacDougall and Bankers' competitions.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

The left hand grips the club an inch, possibly two, below the top of the handle. Exactly where, is controlled by the sole of the club head which must be flat on the ground. Notice that the club is gripped in the fingers and not in the palm of the hand. Control lies in the finger grip. You can't hold a golf club in a palm grip—which is a baseball grip. I don't show it here but, the second joint of the right forefinger is extended a bit down the shaft. This provides club control and leverage at impact. The heel of the left hand, by levering the club handle opposite to the force furnished by the looped forefinger of the right hand, provides the whip cracker effect.

Numerous Tired Areas Hinder Market Advance

By AP and CP

In its second straight day of recovery, the New York stock market advanced moderately yesterday, but the rise was hampered by several tired areas.

Steels, motors, oils, utilities, rubbers, radio-television and aircrafts all made good progress, and there were a number of outstanding individual performers.

The railroads were prominent because of their inability to hold to their early gains. There was a lot of profit-taking in chemicals and gold-mining shares.

The AP average of 60 stocks was up 20 cents at $96.70 with the industrial component up 40 cents, rails down 10 cents, and utilities up 20 cents.

The volume of trading expanded sharply to 1,750,000 shares, compared with 1,340,000 shares Wednesday.

MODERATELY ACTIVE

At Montreal stock prices forsook early dullness to push irregularly higher on the stock exchange and curb market. Trading was moderately active.

Changes were mostly fractional.

Paper set the pace for the climb with senior metals, senior oils, banks and carriers moving higher. Steels were irregularly firmer.

Mines and western oils followed the industrial market into slightly higher ground.

In Toronto stock market prices climbed steadily toward the close in fairly active dealings. Volume totaled about 1,800,000 shares.

Papers and refining oils led the industrials. Utilities, banks, manufacturing companies, retail stores and miscellaneous industrials were firm. Agricultures, constructions, steels, liquors and textiles were mixed.

Senior golds weakened.

Secondary issues held gains and losses in balance.

GRAIN LOWER

At Winnipeg, increased selling sent all grain lower in active trade on the grain exchange.

Early in the sessions, liberal offerings and hedging sales appeared in all commodities. Some selling was based on large western crop estimates out of Ottawa and reports of no frost.

Commercial demand was not aggressive.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat included 25,000 bushels each to Switzerland and Belgium.

London Market Slowed Down

LONDON, Aug. 16 (Reuters)—Ministerial warning of a large dollar deficit in Britain's balance of payments checked business in domestic stocks on the stock exchange today.

Losses of 1/16 to ¼ were recorded but with only a small volume of selling reported.

Industrials were unchanged to occasionally firmer and motors showed little reaction to the fall in output during the first six months of this year.

Japanese bonds were first buoyant and then heavy. Renewed fears of delay in the peace treaty signing encouraged some selling and produced net falls of ⅛ to 1 point.

The reported deadlock in the Iranian oil talks created dullness in oil shares but final levels were occasionally above the lowest.

Minings were idle. Coppers were lower where changed.

Possibility of Shipping Controls Looms To Avert Grain Transportation Crisis

OTTAWA, Aug. 16 (CP)—The possibility loomed today that the government may soon implement shipping controls to avert the threat of the greatest transportation crisis to hit western grain producers.

The shipping shortage, acute throughout the summer, grows more ominous with the prospects that Canada may harvest a record 582,000,000-bushel crop this year.

Transportation authorities said the controls could be imposed by the appointment of a controller with power to requisition ships, break shipping contracts and force operators to haul grain only.

GLOOMY

However, officials were gloomy over prospects that even this move would alleviate a Great Lakes haulage squeeze. The crux of the problem was lack of ships, with no possibility of getting more before the freeze-up next winter.

Officials said if more ships are switched to grain, less transport will be available for priority iron ore and coal needed in Canadian and American defense production. This could lead to possible shut-downs and pockets of unemployment in heavy industries.

It was for that reason, it was learned, that the government decided last spring against appointing a transport controller.

A call on the government to help western farmers move crops has been made by farm organizations. Today, M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, urged that the control [illegible]

LATE CROP

Transport officers said current problems had their roots in the prairie's late crop last year. Terminal points in the spring were jammed with millions of bushels of wheat, a big part of it damp and low grade.

Lake vessels began moving it eastward at the rate of about 2,000,000 bushels a day. Later, however, the rate dropped to 1,000,000 bushels as iron ore and coal became available.

Now, said transport officials, Canada's Great Lakes shipping fleet of about 190 vessels are devoting about one-half their haulage capacity to grain and the other half to iron ore and coal.

But this proportion of haulage was not sufficient to cope with the problems of moving a bumper crop.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE

All means to increase shipping capacity had been investigated by a special government committee, headed by J. C. Lessard, deputy minister of transport.

Extra shipping could be obtained from Europe, but vessels would [illegible] through the narrow St. Lawrence River neck. Shipping on the American side of the Great Lakes was tied up on priority shipments. The United States had shipping problems of its own.

A thorough study had been made of alternative routes through the northern port of Churchill and westward to Vancouver. Churchill, however, had only an eight-week shipping season and could handle only about 10,000,000 bushels of grain.

PROSPECTS BRIGHTER

Prospects were brighter westward. Vancouver likely would get more than the 70,000,000 bushels moved to that port last year, but movement would be based on economics. Since Canada's wheat customers paid costs on ocean [illegible] countries would rather buy grain at eastern points.

As the transportation crisis continued, it would mean less grain for shipment at such points as Montreal and Halifax. Last year some European countries, finding no wheat available at these ports, switched their ships to New York and purchased American wheat instead.

B.C. Gets $35,000,000 Repayable in U.S. Funds

British Columbia has succeeded in borrowing $35,000,000 on the United States market, it was announced yesterday from New York by Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb. The loan is repayable in United States funds.

The money will be used to pay treasury bills amounting to $26,320,000 owing the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and to finance construction of highways and bridges at a cost of $8,680,000.

Mr. Anscomb declared the high credit rating that this province enjoys in the New York market "is most gratifying."

The underwriting group which purchased B.C. bonds was headed by The First Boston Corporation and A. E. Ames & Co., and includes Harriman Ripley & Co., Inc., Smith, Barney & Co., Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., The Dominion Securities Corporation, Wood, Gundy & Co., Inc., and McLeod, Young, Weir, Inc.

DETAILS OF BONDS

Of the $35,000,000 sold, $6,000,000 are 3 per cent four-year sinking fund debentures; $1,500,000 are 3 per cent five-year debentures; $1,500,000 are 3 per cent six-year debentures and the remaining $26,000,000 are long-term 25-year sinking fund debentures with 3½ per cent interest coupons and are subject to call any time after 10 years.

"The interest cost of these debentures to the province after the net proceeds have been converted to Canadian dollars is estimated to amount to 2.28 per cent on an average weighted basis for the short-term 3 per cent coupon bonds and 3.45 per cent for the 25-year 3½ per cent debentures," stated the minister.

SATISFACTORY

"Considering market conditions, the price secured is most satisfactory," he said. "The domestic market could not have absorbed the amount involved on anything like this basis because the price for as long a term as 25 years would have been prohibitive and because the demand for short-term paper in Canada is now negligible."

"It is many years since B.C. has been able to market long-term securities with a life greater than 18 or at most 20 years," he added. "The ability to do this at this time enables the financing of capital projects on a basis more compatible with the life of the asset and reduces the annual installment on the sinking fund by nearly 1 per cent."

"Had the $26,000,000 been sold on a 20-year life term, $968,000 annually would have been required for sinking fund installments instead of the $715,000 that will be set aside," he said.

Debt charges on borrowings for roads and bridges will be paid from the highway development fund, in which are placed three cents out of each 10 cents a gallon collected by way of gasoline tax.

J. V. Fisher, deputy minister of finance, accompanied Mr. Anscomb to New York for the negotiations.

Both officials have now returned to Victoria.

Army Insists on Proof of Age

The chances of an underaged youth becoming a member of Canada's armed services are slim, Victoria recruiting officers say.

The recent discovery of a 13-year-old boy discharged from army at the age of 12 by concealing his true age.

Local recruiting officers insist upon a birth certificate, a baptismal certificate or an affidavit from the candidate's parents indicating his true age.

"Of course it's possible for such documents to be faked," said one recruiting officer. "But as far as we are concerned, the recruit is as old as the documents say he is."

The boy, Robert Young of Philadelphia, had joined the army at the age of 12 by concealing his true age.

Culbertson on Bridge

(Copyright, 1951, by Ely Culbertson)

It's a very good idea, of course, to try to fool the opponents—but not at the expense of a sure trick! South outsmarted only himself in today's deal.

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	1 NT	Pass
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's bidding, at any rate, was sound. The mere fact that North could make any response to the opening heart bid meant that South must have a play for game, with his powerhouse, and so he jumped straight to that game, putting no further responsibility on his partner.

West, not wanting to lead from his spade or diamond honors, and feeling that a trump opening was not constructive, selected his fourth-highest club. Declarer immediately reached for dummy's ten spot; he reasoned that if East had the club king, as seemed likely, he would not know about South's blank ace and therefore might be "conned" into covering the ten. East, however, saw no hurry about parting with the king—he was sure that his partner would not have led away from an ace against the bidding that had taken place.

South's "ruse" having failed, he cashed the trump ace and led to the jack, then played the club queen through East. The latter again ducked. South discarded a diamond, but dummy's club suit was now washed up, and with the spade king and diamond ace lying wrong, South ended up by losing two spades and two diamonds.

It goes without saying that South's first play from the dummy was ridiculous. He should have put in the club four, keeping the Q-J-10 intact. Then it would not have required much skill to enter dummy and establish two more club tricks, against any defense!

Labor Brief Outlined

Centralized Purchasing For Hospitals Proposed

A central purchasing department for hospital supplies may be recommended to the legislative inquiry committee on the hospital insurance scheme.

The suggestion was contained in an outline Wednesday night of a proposed brief to the committee from Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.-T.L.C.).

The brief also calls on the federal government for a $5 per capita grant to British Columbia from the federal government to expand the scheme beyond its present borders and to help prepare for an eventual national health scheme.

The outline also says health is essential for everyone and that methods of payment for hospital insurance should come partly from the people but also from general revenue and taxation of natural resources.

CALLS FOR ROLL-BACK

The brief also may call for insurance coverage of all chronic cases, a roll-back of premiums to levels existing before the last increase, and complete removal of co-insurance charges.

It was suggested that the committee check costs of present newspaper advertisements throughout the province and of the scheme's public relations department.

Outline of the brief will be completed by the council's legislative committee and subject to the membership ratification.

Driver Pays Fine Of $50

Eric Coulson, 506 Pendray, was fined $50, or 30 days in city police court yesterday on a careless driving charge.

Police said Coulson's car smashed into a parked vehicle at the corner of Craigflower and Skinner. Damage to the parked vehicle was estimated at $450.

Coulson's car was slightly damaged.

Walter Seginowich was remanded until today on a charge of failing to provide for his wife and two children, one two years old, the other eight months.

HOSPITAL PREMIUMS

Two men appeared in court for failure to pay hospital insurance premiums.

Edward Dong, 809 Caledonia, was fined $10. He had appeared earlier in the year on a similar offence. Russell C. Dunn, 344 Richmond Road, was fined $5.

For maintaining a junk yard on Balmoral Road without a proper permit, Harry Haigh was fined $10.

Remands Youth To Thursday Without Plea

Frank Wilson Tingle, 19, of 99 Metchosin Road, appeared in Saanich police court yesterday charged with breaking and entering and theft and was remanded, without plea, until next Thursday.

Charges were laid against the youth last Monday after a break-in at the Gorgeway Grocery.

With a 15-year-old youth, Tingle was arrested in a downtown hotel. The juvenile was placed in the Coldharbor Road juvenile detention home, escaped Tuesday night and has not been apprehended.

A stolen car was involved in the case, and Tingle appeared in city police court a second time Wednesday to be charged with theft of the vehicle. He was remanded until today.

Refugees Hit at Reds

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 16 (AP)—Polish mutineers who escaped their Communist-ruled country said today that "Russia has turned the whole country into a gigantic slave camp where life is unbearable for everybody but Communists."

Two of the mutineers—12 were granted political asylum by Sweden—met reporters and gave a grim picture of life in their homeland under what they called the "iron grip" of the U.S.S.R.

Poland has demanded that Sweden hand over the 12 sailors, who mutinied aboard a minesweeper and brought the craft to a Swedish port Aug. 2. The 12 now move about here with special escorts for fear of being kidnapped by Polish Communist agents.

BOND PRICES UNCHANGED

MONTREAL, Aug. 16 (CP)—Abitibi and B.A. Oil convertibles on the corporate market were in good demand and firmer in an otherwise quiet session on the Montreal bond market today. Prices were mainly unchanged and there were no outstanding features.

A private company, Frontier, is reported formed to rehabilitate the Dunwell Mine (B.C.).

Had Eczema for 40 Years

Itching Misery Spread Over Hands, Arms, Legs Tells How He Found Relief

"For over 40 years I have had to submit to the curse of Eczema—spread over hands, arms and finally my legs," writes Mr. M. R. of Vancouver, B.C. "I gave up all hope of ever finding a remedy that would give me a little relief. I tried everything. Three months back I was compelled to leave a good job on account of the condition of my skin. After being home for a month, I read an advertisement of your Emerald Oil. I bought a bottle and applied a few daubs on my raw flesh. Eureka—what had I found! I wish you could see my skin today. If I did not have the living proof on my own body, no one on this Earth could ever possibly convince me that it was possible to have such a remedy act and operate so rapidly. Gentlemen, I wish to heartily thank you.

If you or any relative or friend suffer from any form of itching skin troubles, you will make no mistake in giving Moone's Emerald Oil a trial. Stainless—Greaseless — but extremely efficacious. Moone's Emerald Oil is obtainable wherever drugs are sold. Owl Drug Stores.

Want Benefits For Workers Idle in Strikes

Question of unemployment insurance for workers made idle by a strike but not participating in the action, will be placed before Canadian Congress of Labor annual convention meeting Sept. 17 in Vancouver.

Victoria Labor Council (C.C.L.) endorsed a resolution that the Unemployment Insurance Act be amended to provide payments for workers left idle by such action.

Delegates also endorsed a resolution urging that the federal government reimpose price controls. Convention approval also will be sought on a resolution calling on the federal government to extend collective bargaining privileges to its employees.

Named as convention delegates at Vancouver were J. Sinclair and J. McKenzie.
